Sprint 1 Report, Team 21, Project TRVRL

Team members: Marvin Corro, Usman Zahid, Jyotsna Prakash

February 3, 2016

Actions To Stop Doing

The team struggled a lot this last sprint mostly because of the lack of effort we put into the project. We had short meetings with the hopes to work at home with no hard deadlines besides the sprint 1 due date. We need more weekly meetings and more time to work on the project in an area were we can keep each other accountable for the work one puts in. We also have a lack of communication, slow replies to text and slow responses in general. Finally we need to quit assuming we still have time and get more things done.

Actions To Start Doing

This list is basically the opposite of the other list above. We need to communicate better as a team and set harder deadlines for each other. WE must hold everyone accountable no excuses for anything that might come up. Daily meetings would also help more then just the few meetings we have a week. Now that we all have a better understanding of web2py we should start dividing the work more equally and figuring out how to split the work for the next sprint.

Actions To keep Doing

Our team gets along very well and we are all very enthusiastic and have a good (maybe a little to good) attitude for our project.

Work Completed/Not Completed

This sprint we got a way to set up a profile but we were not able to create the profile itself nor the destinations page we wanted to have by sprint 1. This work seems more easy after doing assignment 1 were we covered topics similar to what we need to get done for our own project. WE did not get done:

1. As a user, I want to create a profile so that I can be see and interact with other users

2. As a user, I want to be able to add my experience about destinations that I traveled to so that I can help other travelers

What is our rate of completing work?

Look at burn up chart in git hub repo